

California Personal Privacy Notice

Last Modified: 15 September 2021

This notice and policy supplements information contained in privacy notices from Vitamin Well USA LLC and its affiliates and subsidiaries, including Barebells Functional Foods (“Barebells”) and applies solely to residents of the State of California (“consumers” or “you”). Barebells adopts this notice and policy to comply with the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018, as amended from time to time (“CCPA”). Any terms defined in the CCPA have the same meaning when used in this notice and policy. This notice and policy does not reflect our collection, use, or disclosure of California residents’ personal information where an exception under the CCPA applies.

1. RIGHT TO KNOW ABOUT PERSONAL INFORMATION COLLECTED, DISCLOSED OR SOLD

You have the right to request that we disclose what personal information we collect, use, or disclose about you specifically (“right to know”). To submit a request to exercise the right to know, please submit an email request to dpo@vitaminwell.com and include “California Request to Know” in the subject line or call our toll-free number at (888) 910-0273. Please specify in your request the details you would like to know, including any specific pieces of personal information you would like to access.

Barebells will ask that you provide certain information to verify your identity. The information that we ask you to provide to verify your identity will depend on your prior interactions with us and the sensitivity of the personal information at issue. Barebells will respond to your request in accordance with the CCPA. If we deny your request, we will explain why.

When a business sells your personal information, you have a right to opt out of such sale. Barebells does not sell information as the term “sell” is traditionally understood. However, Barebells may disclose certain information about you when you use Barebells’ site (“Site”), purchase products or services, or request information from Barebells for purposes that may be considered a “sale” under the CCPA. For example, Barebells may disclose information to advertising partners, advertising technology companies, and companies that perform advertising-related services in order to provide you with more relevant advertising tailored to your interests. To the extent Barebells sells your personal information as the term “sell” is defined under the CCPA, you have the right to opt-out of the sale of your personal information by us to third parties at any time. You may submit a request to opt-out by using the Do Not Sell My Personal Information button visible on every page and following the instructions. You may also choose to email us at dpa@vitaminwell.com to opt out (with the subject line “do not sell info”), including if you are an authorized agent for a California resident; however, the more immediate way of fulfilling this request is through the first option listed above.

2. PERSONAL INFORMATION HANDLING PRACTICES

Barebells collects such information from the following categories of sources:

- Directly from you. For example, when you contact or request information from us including via the Barebells Site, make an online purchase, or create a Barebells account.
- Third Parties, including Service Providers. For example, service providers that Barebells uses, analytics companies, advertising networks and cooperatives, and other third parties that Barebells' chooses to collaborate or work with.
- Social media platforms and networks. For example, companies that you use in connection with Barebells Site or mobile application, or that share or allow you to share information with Barebells, such as Facebook. For more information on network privacy practices, please review the privacy policies and settings of the social media platforms and networks that you use.
- Using cookies and automatic collection methods. Barebells and its service providers may collect information from the computer, tablet, phone, or other device that you install our mobile application on, that you use to access our Site, or that you use to open an email or click on an advertisement from Barebells. Methods Barebells uses include: cookies (which may be session-based or persistent, and are typically small data files that are stored on your hard drive or in connection with your Internet browser); web beacons or tags; flash cookies or Local Stored Objects; any other technologies.

Barebells collects, uses, retains, and discloses your personal information for the purposes described below:

- To provide you with products and services, such as to: fulfill your orders and process your payments; process, maintain and service your account(s);
- Register an account, manage customer relationship, communicate with you, and send marketing communications;
- Measure consumer response to online content, identify consumer interests for marketing purposes, and personalize web content;
- Review and train on call center recordings;
- Handle and record consumer rights requests, including opt-ins and opt-outs;
- Monitor, protect and improve Barebells security assets and resources, including devices, systems, customer data, infrastructure, and Barebells' network; and

- Comply with laws, regulatory requirements and to respond to lawful requests, court orders and legal processes.

3. SHARING OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

In the preceding 12 months, Barebells disclosed the above categories of personal information to the following categories of third parties for a business purpose, in some cases as directed by you:

- Barebells Affiliates. For example, Barebells affiliates may share business processes and common data systems.
- Third parties and service providers that provide products or services to us. For example, companies that help us market or advertise to you, or that provide products or services to you. Barebells may use third parties or service providers to help with auditing interactions and transactions with you, addressing security, fixing errors, helping us with advertising or marketing, maintaining accounts and providing customer service, helping with our internal research, and verifying service quality or safety.
- Social media platforms and networks. For example, companies that offer functionalities, plugins, widgets, or tools in connection with our Site or mobile application. For more information about what information is shared or collected, and how it is used, see the applicable social media company's privacy policy.

Barebells may also access, transfer, disclose, and preserve personal information when doing so is necessary to: comply with applicable law or respond to valid legal process, including from law enforcement or other government agencies; operate and maintain the security of Barebells' systems, including to prevent or stop an attack on our computer systems or networks; protect the rights or property or ourselves or others, including enforcing our agreements, terms, and policies; or act in urgent circumstances such as protecting the health or personal safety of an employee or worker, agent, customer, user of Barebells' products or services, or member of the public.

4. ONLINE ADVERTISING AND THIRD PARTIES WE WORK WITH

Barebells works with third-party companies for advertising purposes, including to: serve advertisements across the Internet; track and categorize your activity and interests over time on our Site and mobile application, and on third-party Sites and mobile applications; and to identify the different device(s) you use to access Sites and mobile applications. These companies may collect information automatically when you use our Site or mobile application through the methods described in "Using cookies and automatic collection methods” above. The information that these companies collect or that we share may be used to customize or personalize the advertisements that are displayed to you.

Barebells does not provide personal information about you to other companies for money, but to help us market or advertise to you. When this information is in a format that directly identifies you by name, it is generally not shared with any companies for third-party marketing or advertising purposes. Even though Barebells does not provide personal information to these companies for money, California law may characterize such sharing of information to personalize your experience as a “sale” of personal information. See the Request to Opt-Out (“Do Not Sell my Personal Information”) section below to request to opt out from such sharing of personal information.

5. REQUEST TO OPT OUT (“DO NOT SELL MY PERSONAL INFORMATION”)

You may submit a request to opt-out by using the Do Not Sell My Personal Information button visible on every page and following the instructions. You may also choose to email us at dpa@vitaminwell.com to opt out (with the subject line “do not sell info”), including if you are an authorized agent for a California resident; however, the more immediate way of fulfilling this request is through the first option listed above. Once Barebells receives your request and validates the information you provide, your request will be processed.

Barebells may continue to collect and share personal information about you with third parties as described in this Notice that sharing is not a “sale” of personal information, such as to continue to provide services to you. If you use the Barebells mobile application, you will also need to opt out of the “selling” activity under the Do Not Sell My Personal Information function for the application.

6. RIGHT TO REQUEST DELETION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

You have a right to request the deletion of personal information that we collect or maintain about you. To submit a request to delete personal information, please submit an email request to dpo@vitaminwell.com and include “California Request to Delete” in the subject line or call our toll-free number (888) 910-0273. Please specify in your request the personal information about you that you would like to have deleted, which can be all of your personal information as required by the CCPA.

Barebells is required verify your identity. The information that Barebells asks you to provide to verify your identity will depend on your prior interactions with us and the sensitivity of the personal information at issue. Once confirmed, Barebells will respond to your request in accordance with the CCPA. Barebells will provide an explanation for denying a request.

7. RIGHT TO NON-DISCRIMINATION FOR THE EXERCISE OF CCPA RIGHTS

You may not be discriminated against because you exercise any of your rights under the CCPA in violation of California Civil Code § 1798.125.

8. AUTHORIZED AGENT

You can designate an authorized agent to make a request under the CCPA on your behalf if:

- The authorized agent is a natural person or a business entity registered with the Secretary of State of California; and
- You sign a written declaration that you authorize the authorized agent to act on your behalf.

If you use an authorized agent to submit a request to exercise your right to know or your right to request deletion, please have the authorized agent take the following steps in addition to the steps described in subsections 1 and 6 above:

- Mail a certified copy of your written declaration authorizing the authorized agent to act on your behalf to dpo@vitaminwell.com; and
- Provide any information Barebells requests in our response to your email to verify your identity. The information that Barebells asks you to provide to verify your identity will depend on your prior interactions with us and the sensitivity of the personal information at issue.

If you provide an authorized agent with power of attorney pursuant to Probate Code sections 4121 to 4130, it may not be necessary to perform these steps and we will respond to any request from such authorized agent in accordance with the CCPA.
